

Compac CWID blocks and tags are great authorisation tools for your Pump or Unattended Refuelling Unit.

Compac CWID Blocks

CWID blocks are installed on each individual vehicle.

The system is designed to operate with a 4cm range and provides continuous authorisation while refuelling.

Compac CWID Tags

CWID tags are presented to the CWID reader on the pump or unattended refuelling unit (eg DCA). The user can then refuel the vehicle as required. This activation is known as a single authorisation, after which the CWID tag is not required to be in range of the reader while refuelling is taking place.

Additional Options

In conjunction with the CWID block or tag options, additional prompts can be entered on the keypad (if fitted) before refuelling. These added security measures include: Hours, PIN, User ID, Odometer readings.

CWID Block Installation Instructions

In order to achieve a good signal the CWID block needs to be mounted as close as possible to where the nozzle CWID collar will sit. The above picture (showing an older style “white” block) is a good example of how to mount a CWID block to a vehicle.

The CWID blocks come with a mounting hole. It is possible to use a screw or a pot rivet to affix the blocks to the vehicle using this mounting hole.

PLEASE NOTE: You must take EXTREME care not to damage any fuel tanks or fuel lines when mounting CWID blocks. It is also important to note that the installation of a CWID block will change for every vehicle. Both CWID blocks and tags are safe for use in hazardous environments. If you require any further assistance please contact your local Compac agent.
